EDITOR'S CHOICE

My young friends,

Kumar Divya Jyoti of Solan has sent us a Chinese story. I wish to share with you.

One day a fisherman called Ah Chong set out in a boat. After he reached a good spot he lowered his long net into the water and went away.

In the evening, Ah Chong returned and began to pull in his line, but it seemed unusually heavy. "I don't see a fish," he thought, "but there is something heavy!"

When the hook came up, he was astonished to find the hook attached to a gold chain. As he pulled, more more links appeared. Soon the of his boat was covered with links. "I shall be wealthy," he thought, "I shall use this

Ah Chong hauled in more of the chain and soon the boat began to sink with the heavy chain. Ah Chong was a greedy man and did not notice that the boat was lower and lower until he could not see the glittering sun.

Soon the boat reached the bottom of the sea. It was a great difficulty for him to

HARES HAVE LARGE OUTER EARS.

HUMANS HAVE SMALLER EARS. WHATEVER THEIR SIZE, THE PURPOSE OF THE OUTER EAR IS TO GATHER SOUND AND PASS IT TO THE EARDRUM.

EARDRUM

THE EARDRUM IS A THIN PIECE OF TIGHTLY-STRETCHED SKIN AND IS CONNECTED TO THREE LITTLE BONES CALLED THE HAMMER, THE ANVIL AND THE STIRRUP.

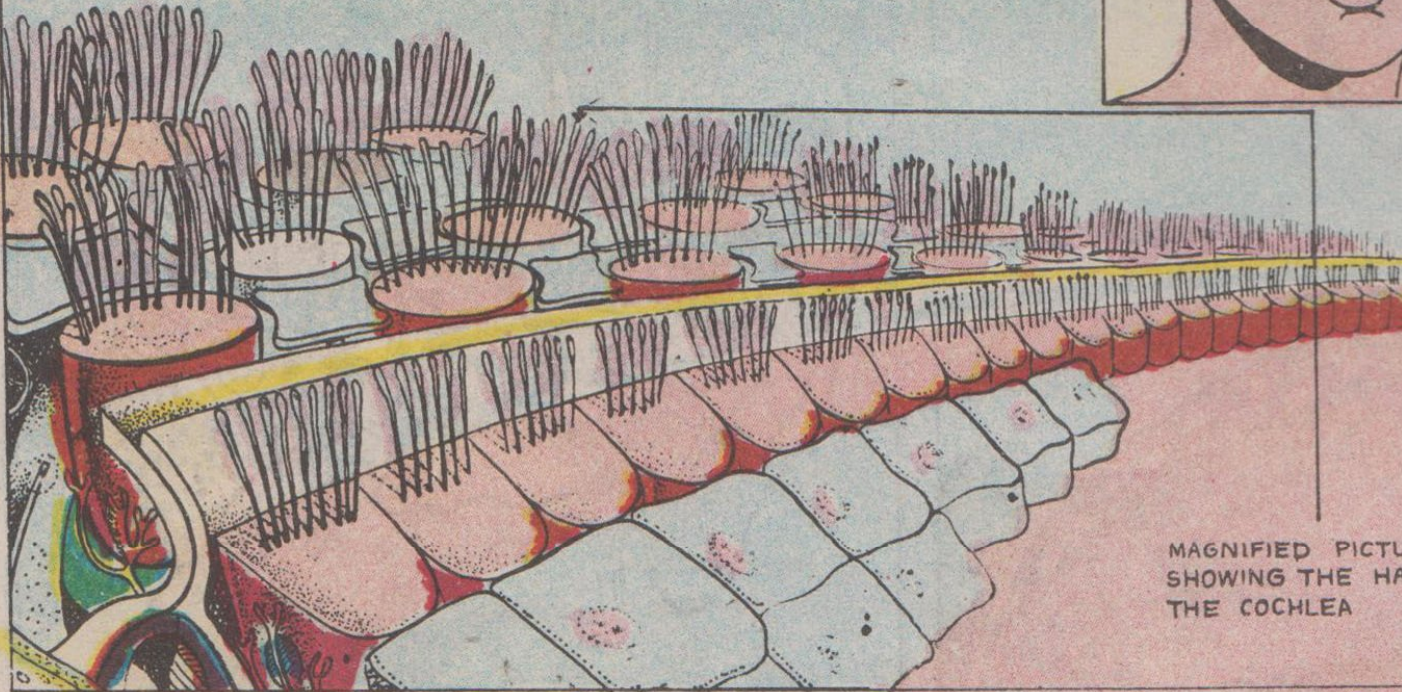

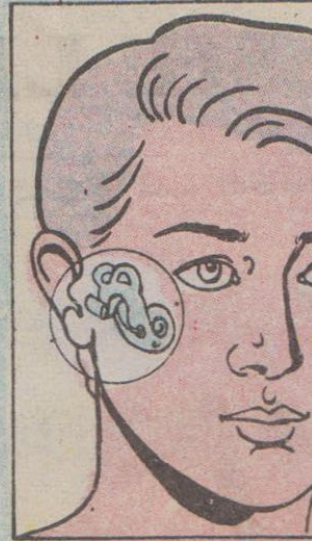

ONE OF THE THREE LITTLE BONES, THE STIRRUP, IS IN TOUCH WITH THE EARDRUM. THE MOST IMPORTANT PART OF THE EAR—THE COCHLEA—IS A TUBE COILED ROUND A CORE OF BONE. IT HAS HAIR CELLS IN IT. THE FREE ENDS OF THE HAIR CELLS FLOAT IN A FLUID. THE TUBE IS FILLED WITH FLUID.

THE THREE LITTLE BONES AND THE COCHLEA ARE RIGHT INSIDE THE HEAD. THEY'RE PROTECTED BY THE BONES OF THE SKULL AND SHUT OFF FROM THE OUTSIDE WORLD BY THE EARDRUM.

SHOWING THE HAIR CELLS
THE COCHLEA

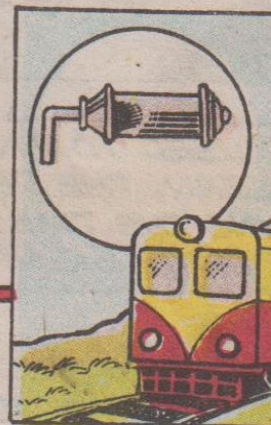

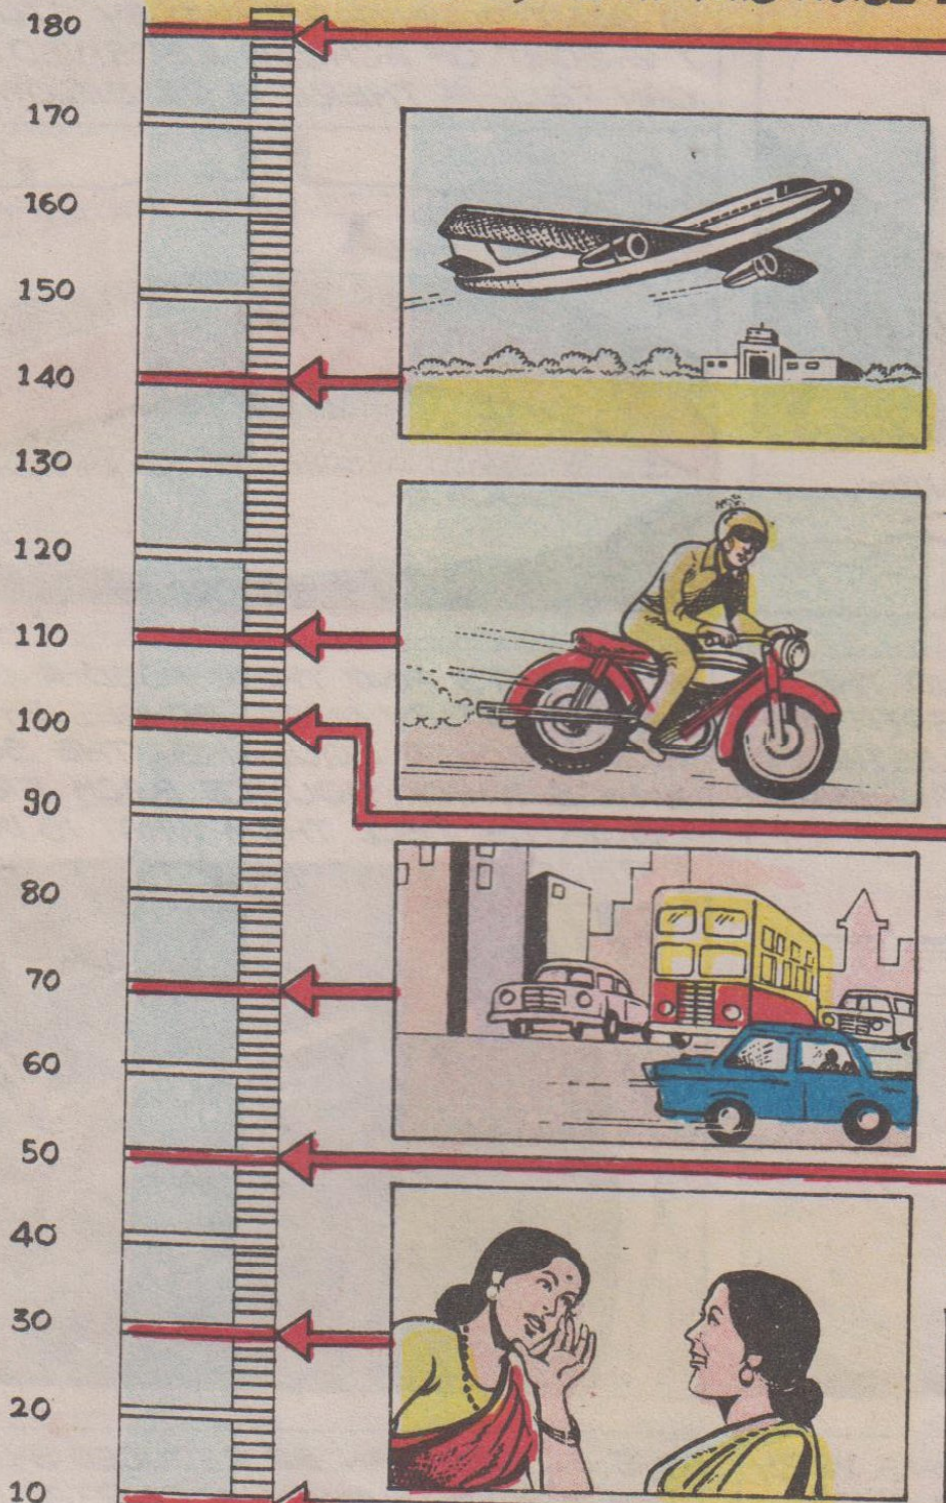

IF THE EARDRUM IS HURT, THE WAY TO THE MIDDLE AND THE INNER PART OF THE EAR IS OPEN. THE EARDRUM CAN BE HURT BY BLOWS ON THE HEAD, BY SHARP OBJECTS AND EVEN LOUD SHARP NOISES.

HOW WORKS

WHEN A SOUND IS COLLECTED BY THE EAR, IT IS PASSED ONTO THE EARDRUM. THE EARDRUM BEGINS TO MOVE FAST. THIS MOVEMENT IS PASSED ONTO THE THREE LITTLE BONES AND THE COCHLEA. THE COCHLEA STARTS MOVING, DISTURBED AND THE SIGNAL IS PASSED TO THE BRAIN.

THE LOUDNESS OF SOUND IS MEASURED IN DECIBELS.
 WHEN YOU WHISPER YOU MAKE A SOUND OF ABOUT 30 DECIBEL
 THE NOISE AT A BUSY STREET CORNER IS OF ABOUT 70 TO 80
 A MOTORCYCLE MAKES A NOISE OF 110 DECIBELS.
 SOUND BEGINS TO BE PAINFUL AT 120 DECIBELS.
 NOISES OF 160 AND ABOVE ARE EXTREMELY HARMFUL.
 SMALL CREATURES LIKE RATS, DIE AT THIS NOISE LEVEL.
